Aims and Outcomes

Educational Aims of the Programme

To prepare students for the demands of a postgraduate taught course by building on the knowledge gained and academic skills acquired in earlier studies in their home countries. To further develop the students' English language, number, word-processing, research and other study skills appropriate to study at postgraduate level. To introduce the student to UK higher education teaching styles and to provide students with opportunities to acquire, through the teaching medium of English, a sound and appropriate knowledge base in their chosen discipline. To develop the students' intellectual appreciation of issues relevant to their chosen pathway and related subjects at postgraduate level and to assist the students in acquiring the skills in the collection, analysis, interpretation and understanding of appropriate data and information in preparation for a postgraduate taught degree. To enable international students to progress to one of the following postgraduate programmes at Liverpool John Moores University: MSc Digital Marketing, MSc Entrepreneurship, MSc Financial Management, MA Human Resource Management, MSc International Human Resource Management, MSc Management and Digital Business, MSc Management, LLM European Law, LLM/MSc Global Crime, Justice and Security, LLM International Business Corporate and Finance Law, MA Criminal Justice.
