Each module credit represents 10 hours of learning. At each level of study 120 credits are required to complete the year. At L5 three of the modules in Semester 2 come from a set of option modules where students chose one from each group; Education studies 5203EDSTUD International and comparative education 5204EDSTUD Education, Equality and Social Justice 5205EDSTUD Contemporary Issues for Young People Inclusion; 5212EDSTUD Supporting the Individual and the Family 5213EDSTUD Picturing Disability: From Print to Screen 5223EDSTUD Creativity and Discovery Learning in the Early Years Work-related learning; 5206EDSTUD International Placement 5207EDSTUD Project Design and Implementation in Education 5208EDSTUD Developing Employability Skills through Work Based Learning The programme will offer the opportunity of 60 credits of study at Level 5. ## Teaching, Learning and Assessment

Acquisition of A1-A9 is gained through a range of contact hours including structured lectures, workshops and seminars. Peer support and Canvas activities will be used to support student learning. Group exercises and presentations ensure that students gain both experience and an understanding of teamwork. Work based learning placements enable students to apply theory to real practical situations. Independent study is encouraged and is supported by formal lectures, workshops and tutorial sessions. Additional support is provided by self-access facilities for ICT in the Library. Throughout the programme students are encouraged to use a variety of media and to broaden their understanding of the subject. Formal assessment of knowledge and understanding is through a range of methods including essays; reports; portfolios; presentations and exams. There will be a mix of individual and group assessments. Cognitive skills are developed through the teaching and learning strategies outlined above. All modules in the programme emphasise student-centred learning, involving students in task-based activities followed by discussion, feedback and a wider application of the concepts. Intellectual skills (B1-B6) are assessed throughout the programme through a variety of methods including essays; reports; portfolios; presentations and exams. There will be a mix of individual and group assessments. These skills will be built upon and developed as the students progress through their programme of study. All students receive initial generic and module-specific guidance and specialist induction on the identification, location and use of multimedia materials in the library and alternative local and non-local sources. Guidance and feedback on assessments are provided at modular level. Assignments have clear criteria for assessment and indicative and essential sources accompany course outlines. Practical skills (C1-C6) are assessed throughout the programme through a variety of methods including work-based learning; essays; reports; portfolios; presentations and exams. There will be a mix of individual and group assessments. These skills will be built upon and developed as the students progress through their programme of study. Oral and written assignments are set at appropriate times in order to support students' learning. Verbal and written feedback foster reflective awareness and independent learning. Deadlines across modules on the programme are monitored carefully to minimise bunching and promote effective time management. Support is given to develop independent skills. Group work is encouraged through task-based discussions and workshops. Study skills are taught and assessed in a level 4 core module and developed progressively (e.g. searching for and presenting information using ICT tools and resources) through levels 5 and 6. Effective communication is assessed in all areas of learners' work. Group-work skills, workshops and reports are assessed through group-based research projects, case-studies and portfolios. Individual coursework is assessed through essays, reports, presentations and exams assess. Students are encouraged to identify their strengths and weaknesses and set appropriate goals and strategies for achievement.

Opportunities for work related learning

All students undertake work-related learning in Level 5 of the programme. The students choose 1 out of 3 option modules (5206EDSTUD International Placement; 5207EDSTUD Project design and implementation and 5208EDSTUD Developing employability skills in the workplace). All 3 modules run as a 4 week block in January and the students will set their own outcomes depending on the placement / organisational type they choose. The range of activities undertaken will vary according to the nature of the placement / project. The module will be assessed through a portfolio of tasks and where appropriate an agency log from the employer.
